

Symposium

EARLY INTERVENTION IN THE 21ST CENTURY

CFRC AND MUSEC JOINT SYMPOSIUM: WEDNESDAY 2 DECEMBER 2015

Early Intervention in Australia faces both a range of opportunities and challenges in the 21st century. This symposium will address a broad range of issues relevant to parents, service providers and academics. Some topics that will be addressed include:

- Distinguishing science and pseudoscience: A guide for practitioners and parents
- Cross-cultural issues in early intervention
- Music in early intervention: Participating in the musical life of childhood
- Facilitating inclusion in early childhood through the use of Key Word Sign
- A social relational approach to the inclusion of children who experience disability in early childhood education
- Making decisions about which interventions to use
- Changing the way we think about Early Intervention
- Engagement and embedded intervention
